The hunt is statewide and any legal method can be used to harvest a coyote.

The Antler Club reserves the right to have an autopsy performed on the animal if we feel the animal was kept in a pen or was taken illegally or weight added. THE DECISION OF THE ANTLER CLUB IS FINAL.

Any violation of the Pennsylvania Game Laws and Rules of the hunt will result in that person or group being disqualified.

Not responsible for any and all accidents.

SIZE DOES MATTER!!!

All coyotes will be weighed and the poundage added totaled.

Prize money will be paid per pound (prize money divided by total poundage of all coyotes equals price per pound).

Example: $1000 of prize money divided by 100 pounds of coyotes equals $10 per pound.

With this system smaller coyotes are worth the same price per pound as the large ones. The bigger the dog the bigger the pay. In 2010 the pay out was $4.07 per pound. Example—a 30 lb. coyote was paid $120.21.

One coyote per $15 entry fee.

This year the Antler Club is offering 2 more prizes. One for the largest male coyote and one for the largest female coyote. Entries are optional and the entry fee is $5.00 for each contest. Participants must be entered in the regular Antler Club Coyote Contest. ALL money collected for those contests will be awarded to the winners. Participants may enter one or both. Entry fees must be sent at the time of registration in the general hunt.
